

ONLINE NEWS

---

Internet addresses

Here are some OPACs which are available over the Internet. They offer a choice of Chinese or English script:

National Kaoshiung Normal University (Taiwan)
telnet 140.127.40.4
login: opac

National Sun Yat-Sen University (Taiwan)
telnet lib.nsysu.edu.tw or 140.117.120.1
login: library

National Cheng Chi University
telnet ccuais.nccu.edu.tw or 140.119.129.1
login: library
Password: library

Select X for English language version
OPAC = INNOPAC <OP009>

From Tony Barry
ANU Library

E-mail lists

A new mailing list called Asialib has been established as a communication channel for discussion concerning Asian library matters. To join, send email to the moderator, Tony Barry at the Australian National University at:

Send the message subscribe asialib emailaddress to majordomo@info.anu.edu.au

Messages to the list should be addressed to asialib@info.anu.edu.au

The instructions in the last Newsletter for joining eastlib no longer work. The file server address is now libserv@mento.oit.edu and the list address is eastlib@mento.oit.edu

Those interested in Hangul computer programs and data, including storage of public software relating to Hangul, may consider joining this Korean e-mail list:

angul%cair.kaist.ac.kr@daiduk.kaist.ac.kr